THE BEST, AND CHEAPEST, AND MOST UNIFORM SERIES OF STANBARD SCHOOL BOOKS

TO those engaged in the important, but ardnous task of instructing youth, McGUFFEY'S ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. Oxe. Two. Thrree and Pone, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FURTHER ALTERATIONS being intended.

Prof. McGuffey's enthusiastic devotion to the cause of Education his fine taste and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as an instructer, render him peculiarly fitted for the department of authorship, to which he has given his attention. The suggestions of intelligent teachers who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable aid afforded him in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with musual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works.

nnusnal facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works.

In this series, comprising as it does, a careful selection of instructive, entertaining and moral matter, progressively arranged, and graduated with reference to the capacity of the pupil. Prof. McGuifey has afforded to patents and teachers, a most thoough, complete, and efficient auxiliary in the education of youth. Its extensive use has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public.

prediction of the manufacture states. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eclectic Readers, having gained for them an unparalleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is cuabled, not withstanding the heavy expenditure in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the nearest and most durable manner, while they are now formshed at such low prices, that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best school reading brooks extant.

IEST PUBLISHED,

M. GUFFEY'S RIBTORICAL GUIDE; or Fifth Reader, of the Eclectic Series—480 pages, 1200.; containing condons and minute rules, examples and exercises in articulation, inflection, emphasis accent, quantity, rhetorical pause, modulation, expression, reading of poetry, rhetorical dialogue, gesture, and their collateral subjects, to which are added a great variety of circumtreading lessons, (about one half prose and half poetry.) selected from the most classic writers; furnishing entertaining and instructive specimens of varians styles of composition. This wor has been prepared with very great care, and with reference to making it a useful, practical, and standard book; and the publisher confidently hopes, that the Rhetorical Guide of Mr. McGuffey is well adapted to supply the wants of classes in rhetorical reading in our Acade mics, that Schools and Colleges.

Wednesday, Jan. 7, 1846.
Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Hunter.

The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

Mr. TODD asked leave of absence for Mr. BRADFORD, on account of a death and illness in his family : granted.

Mr. KEY asked leave of absence for Mr. FOX till next Monday, on account of illness in his family: granted.

The SPEAKER laid before the Senate the Annual Report of the President of the Kentucky Mutual Insurance Company.

Petitions were presented by Messrs. CREN-SIIAW, BALLARD, SWOPE, EVANS, DRAF-FIN and HELM. Mr. A. BOYD, from the committee on Enrollments, reported sundry bills, which were signed by REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. HARDIN, from the committee on the Judiciary, a bill to change the venue in the case of Garrett Fitzpatrick, indicted for inflicting a wound, from Favette to Clarke Circuit Court: passed.

Also, a bill for the benefit of Albert Allen and Ann E. Allen, his wife: authorizes the sale of land owned by her, and the proceeds vested in other lands for her: passed.

Also, a bill for the benefit of Luuisa Ann Coleman. Charles II. Kenner and Marcus M. Kenner: authorizes the distribution of an estate: passed.

Also, a bill for the benefit of John Thomas, of Adair county: authorizes the County Court to levy for his support, instead of keeping him in the poorhouse: passed.

Also, a bill for the benefit of Jos. A. and Louisa J. Radford: authorizes sale of lands belonging to infants and proceeds vested in other lands: passed

Also, a bill for the benefit of Lemnel H. Williams: authorizes him to serve as a Deputy Sheriff, though he had been a Commissioner of Taxes: referrec to committee on Finance.

Also, a H. R. act to change the name of Jame W Davis to James W. Johnson: passed.

Also, a H. R. act to change the name of Samuel Allison to Samuel Allison Jones: passeil. [A message from the H. R. announcing the pas sage of sundry bills.] Also, a H. R. act for the benefit of Benjamin Leavill: allows him to bring in a slave from Ten-Mr. TAYLOR opposed the bill. The people of his section were as much interested in procuring permission to introduce slaves as any; but they complained with good reason, of too much special legislation on the subject while the great body of the people were subjected to the restrictions and prohibitious of the general law of 1833. They preferred to this kind of partial legislation, the total repeal of the law of '33. They desired that all the citizens of the State should be placed on a footing of equality, all being required to obey the general law, or all left equally free to import slaves by repealing that law. They complained of the special laws for the benefit of individuals in the lower part of the State. No such partial legislation was asked from his section.

Mr. GRAY regretted the opposition of the Senator from Clarke, (Mr. Taylor.) But his reasons are not tenable. He says because his constituents do not ask special legislation, mine should not be gratified. Our situation is very different. He comes from the interior; I come from the border adjacent to the Tennessee line. The people of the interior have not such cases of necessity urging them to ask per-mission to bring in slaves. Many reasons exist mission to bring in slaves. Many reasons exist along the border line justifying importations of slaves, which do not arise and cannot apply in the inrior. Slaves frequently marry across the line be-tween the States. Would any here separate man and wife! Even if the law of '33 were right in itself, this case is a fair exemption. He hoped the Senatur would withdraw his opposition.

Mr. TAYLOR. The Senator from Christian, [Mr. GRAY,] is mistaken in supposing the people of my section are not as much interested as those of his section in procuring exemptions from the penalties of the law of '33. The people I represent trade largely in stock, which they drive to those States where slaves are numerous and cheap and they might drive a very profitable business, could they be exempted from the provisions of the general law, in exchanging stock for slaves. The law is rigidly forced in our section; but its policy will he utterly defeated by the numerous cases of exemption presented and carried by special acts; for every applicant makes out an apparently good case. But all these cases come at last to the naked position-the applicants want additional slaves, and they ask to be privileged to procure them upon better terms than are enjoyed by the great body of the people who are disposed to be obedient to the general law and acquiesce in its policy. And it is a sure case that every one wanting a slave more, thinks his own, and so represents it, to be a peculiarly hard case. As to parting husbands and wives, that was not the question now. When such a question shall legitimately come up here, he would meet it. The people of his section, insisted, that, if any were exempted, all should be exempted from the penalties of the act of '33, prohibiting the impotation of slaves

And the question being taken, shall the bill be read a third time, was decided in the affirmative, yeas 22, nays 10, as follows:

And then the bill passed. Mr. PEYTON, from the committee on the Judiciary, a bill to change the venue in the case of Milton Martin, indicted for felony, from the Laurel to the Rockcastle Circuit Court: passed.

Mr. CRENSHAW, from the committee on the Judiciary, a bill to repeal the act to amend the act concerning the execution laws, approved March 10,

Mr. CRENSHAW. The law, proposed to be repealed by this bill, provides that money collected under an execution in favor of any creditor, shall be ratably divided among all execution creditors, by which process innumerable difficulties had arisen and would continue to arise, -a statement of which would remove all opposition to the repeal. He referred, in illustration of his views, to a case which occurred in his neighborhood. Three or four judgments had been taken against a debtor at the same term of the Court. One of the plaintiffs sued out execution and levied; but the defendant removed all his property, liable to execution, out of reach. One creditor thus incurred all the expenses, and all the responsibilities, while, had he recovered anything, he had been required to divide the fruits of his own superior diligence among all the other more sluggish creditors in execution. Another case: executions having issued on replevin bonds, and levied, the Sheriff had to travel through two counties to learn from the Judge how the property should Sheriffs could not proceed satisfactorily which had been referred the bill to abolish the First Auditor's office, reported a bill, as a substitute therefor, embracing the views of the committee, as well as the Governor's recommendations, with reference to the transfer of certain duties to the First Anditor's office: which was read: and then with drawn and reported as an original bill, laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. HARDY raised a question of order touching the right to withdraw a proposition before the House; which the SPEAKER overruled, and called for the orders of the day: which were dispensed to allow the Chairman of the committee on Ways and Means to report again the bill to abolish the First Anditur's office-which was also laid upon the table and ordered to be printed.

was adopted: and as amended, the bill passed. Senate joint resolution, directing the visitation of the Transylvania University and the Lunatic Asy-

COMMITTEE ON MILITARY AFFAIRS.

Mr. DESHA, from the committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill to legalize certain proceedings of the 20th regiment. [Legalizes the proceedings of a majority of the captains convened on the 17th of December, 1845, and makes their acts as valid as though they had met on the 5th of November of that Read &c.

Mr. HUNTON proposed to amend by a section lagalizing the acts of a court martial of the S6th regiment, and making their acts as valid as though they had convened on the 3rd Thursday in October, 1844, met for the same business on the first Monday in November of that year: which was adopted.

The further readings were then dispensed: when Mr. GLENN, by way of ryder, proposed to amend by adding a section, allowing to B. Wade, former sheriff of Todd county, or either of his sucessors, further time to return delinquent muster fines of the years 1842, 1843: which was adopted.

BILLS CONCERNING THE FIRST AUDITOR'S OFFICE. Mr. HARDY asked the indulgence of the House for one moment. There were now two bills, he said, of paramount interest to the House, which printed. According to his recollection and construction of the rule, to bring up either of them before the House again, would require a motion sustained by a vote of two thirds. But it was now competent for the House to re-consider those votes, and to avoid difficulty; and for the sake of fairness ought to be done. He regretted that he was not himself in a position to make the motion—he not having voted for either order.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Monday, January 6, 1846.

MR. HUNTON'S RESOLUTIONS-In continuation. Mr. E. SMITH said he did not stand upon this floor as the apologist and advocate of the Circuit ludges. It was know to the House that he had but ast introduced a bill to sweep them all from the ench, and reduce their number from nineteen to twelve or thirteen. Some of these venerable jurists had grown on the service of the State-their energies were paralyzed and it was not to be expected of The Senate amendment to the House bill, entitled them to discharge their duties with that promptitude an act for the benefit of the town of Albany, was ta- and strength of nerve which belongs to vigorous But he was unwilling, now in their old manhood. age, when the State was about to give them their uirluses, to attach to them the stigma of unfaithbluess and corruption. Neither was it true that they were already so branded by common fame. It was not so in the mountains, and if it were so in the low lands, after a residence of four or five years here as a representative, it had not yet come to his ears. But granting that there exists a few cases of nalpractice, should we slander the virtuous on their recount ! No sir: no: but if he were but pointed to he calprit, he would vote to disgrace him from ofice like an unworthy dog. There should be no timulity as to the discharge of such duty among representatives. Did gentlemen consider what they were proposing to do by the adoption of this resolution! They are about to send the Sergeant-at-arms to the nouth of the Cumberland to collect witnesses and substantiate charges against a Circuit Judge, of which a gentleman upon this floor had avowed his belief that they were entirely groundless, &c. He submitted whether such reports were sufficient to set un foot grave charges of corruption, at the expense of character and of the treasury. It might be true, indeed, that corruption did ex st-it was often charged upon the bighest funtionaries in the hand; but charges were not evidence of guilt. Pass this resolution, said he, and if the commutee requisitions we may stay here till May. He desired as short a session as the public good would allow. He could not go for the resolution without material modifications; and was also opposed to the amend-

Mr. J. S. SMITH. It was too late now to recede in this proceeding. The intimation had gone forth; and the charge was made by implication, that corruption exists in the judiciary administration. And the effect of the amendment was, to lighten the censure upon the Judges, only to lay it heavier on the magistrates, who had sins enough of their own to answer for. He was understood to allege that the propert severy tub should stand on its om." was a good rule in common life; and if it applied well to our personal and social relations, the principle must be of equal value in its application to our political relations. If the judiciary should be uncontaminated and kept wholly free from the infections of vice and corruption, then the investigations could not affect the Judges; and the scope of investigation could not be too broad, as the gentleman from Franklin apprehended. But if these res-olntions should be stifled now, what would be the result? He feared for such a result; for of all the departments of the government, he looked toward the indiciary with the most anxions solicitude, not only on his own, but on his children's account: and he could not allow himself to sit in silence, and see the assembled representatives - hesitating. looking at consequences, and faultering, as though they would prefer to stifle an inquiry into the purity of our Judiciary; and as though they were afraid that something wrong might really be disclosed. Such had just been laid upon the table and ordered to be symptoms would be taken as evidence of guilt in the private individual. It we suppose a case where the presumption has obtained against an individual, that he has been looking into the mail-bags-would not his friends fear to eviscerate the facts, lest something should be disclosed that would destroy his reputation? And was not the principle just as to both sides of the House, he suggested that it likely to obtain among the friends of our high functionaries of the government !

He did not know why gentlemen in the middle and upper parts of the State objected to an inquiry into the manner in which their officers discharged their duty, norded he know what corruptions or maltensances had crept into the offices of the Indiciary. Clerks or Magistrates in that part of the lle had the honor to represent a portion of the Green river country, and for one, he was willing lations holding office, into whose official conduct it would be the duty of the committee to inquire; and if they had been guilty of corruption, he wanted it to be known to the country. It is the great mistake of demagogues, and of even hallow honest men, to fancy that Republicanism is o be propagated by arms. It is very true, Republicans may make a dash with arms, have brilliant accesses, overrun large provinces, and, as long as the phrenzy lasts, carry all before them; but Republicanism has always in the end succumbed to despotism within. Republicans, to have a constant career of success, must change their Republic into a military monarchy, because the government of a Republie the good of the many, is incompatible with the unity and energy necessary in the battle-field, or in the administrative department of war.

The true way, then, we infer from this process of reasoning, to make our Republic antagonistic to monarchy, is to go on, as we have done, cultivating the arts of peace. Its prosperity is in peace, and its prosperity is always an antagonist of monarchies. The more we gain in peace, the stronger we are in pence, the greater our victory over the Powers of Europe. This astonishing advancement of ours in civilization, in general happiness, in the arts and sciences, and commerce and manufactures, is the great argument of Republicanism which monarchies cannot now get over. DOCTOR PHYTHAN.

DENTAL SURGERY.

II. DAVIS, resident Surgical and Mechanical DENTIST, Frankfort, Ky., being permanently located in this city, respectfully tenders his Professional Services to the citizens of this city and vicinity. Defective teeth should be filled before their beauty or symetry is destroyed, and thereby not only render them ornamental, but useful the remainder of life.

I am also prepared to insert ARTIFICIAL TEETH, upon the principle of Atmospheric Pressure, (when the circumstances of the case will admit it,) after the latest and most approved method, with or without ARTIFICIAL GUMS, from one tooth to an entire sett, and in a style not surpassed anywhere. Teeth set on principle charged the set of the intire sett, and the astyle bot surpassed anywhere, rectains divot, cleansed, ecc.

Extracting done with the latest and most improved instruments, and with the least possible pain. All operations performed in a careful and satisfactory manner.

OF LATEST IMPROVEMENTS, by which, not only the drapery, but the face and eyes are given perfect in all their beauty of color and expression. Together with his late and valuable discovery of coloring the back ground, which is universally admired, and so indispensable in beautifying and inishing a miniature portrair in good taste.

A lavorable opportunity is now offered to the ladies and gentlemen of Frankfort and vicinity, to obtain Miniature Portraits in the most perfect style of execution, which for life like beauty, distinctness and accuracy, are acknowledged to be unequalled. Mr. Beswell has opened his Gallery at the corner of Main and Ann streets, over the Drug store of W. L. Cutcher, near the Weisiger House, where he is prepared to receive ladies and gentlemen to lake their likenesses in any kind of weather by affording him from ten to sixty seconds sitting. None need now hesitate in consequence of the heretof ite objection to Baguerreotypes, viz. dimmess of the eyes and imperfection of colors. Mr. B. by his late improvements, ple legs himself to give the eyes and hair perfect with all their brightness and colors. Perfect likenesses are warranted and satisfaction given before any charge is made. Mr. Bowell is prepared to give instructions in his tale improvements, which are unequalled, and warrants all of his miniature portraits to remain repared to give instructions in his halo improvenents, which are nequalled, and warrants all of his miniature portraits to remain or ages unfided.

Ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call and exam-lyn, 3, 1846.

Here Coats, and Vests, and Pants you view,
Of texture smooth and fine;
All colored with each rainbow hue,
To deck the form divine;
And Scarfs of every leanteous dye
Artistic skill could trace,
To please the taste, delight the eye,
And twine the neck with grace;
And splendid Cloaks made a la mode,
To keep the budy warm;
The richest dress which Fashion's code
Ilas given the manly form.
Our ample stock we purchased low.
And paid the rino down;
And hus can sell for less, we know,
Than any one in town.
Our matchess Goods then call and see,
And buly a splendid suit,
For they shall fit you to a T,
And shall be cheap to hoot.
Just try the new GREAT WESTERN stand,

Itis Bar is furnished with the purest and best Liquors in the markets of Frankfort, Louisville, Cincinnati, and New Orleans, and as he intends to devote his personal attention to those who may favor him with their patronage, he flatters himself that he will serve up his articles to smit the taste of the most fastidious Epicures. He only wishes the members of the Legislature, transient visiters, and citizens generally to give him a call, and he is confident when they visit his house once, they will not go elsewhere to find the good things in his line. He also keeps on hand Chewing Tebacco and Cigars of the best brands.

WATCHES, JEWELRY, &c.

J. F. & B. F. MEEK, WOILD most respectfully inform the public that they continue at their old stand, where they now offer a beautiful and well selected assortinent of Watches, Jewelry, Cutlery, &c., of the latest fashions, which they are determined to sell as low as such articles can be had in any Western market. They also continue to repair Watches, Clocks, and Jewelry, in a manner which cannot fail to give satisfaction. All work done in this establishment warranted. Call and see.

THE subscriber will open a permane t ACADEMY FOR BOYS AND YOUNG MEN, at his rest once five n. 3 South of Frankfort, Kentucky, hitherto known as the Frankfor Springs, on the first Mondey in April next.

The property was purchased by the undersigned silely on a count of its admirable a laptation, in every respect, for Ac demical purposes; being entirely apart from all the cent in most use of Town Life; the Locality being Airy and Besithy; the Mireral Waters Salubrious; the Buildin's Elegant, Extensive and Commodiers.

For those to whom the undersubed is known personally or by reputation, he deems testimouishs and references unnecessary: His homerable graduation at the United States Military Academy at West Point: his subsequent connection with the Engineering service of the General Government, his lang experience as an Instructor, and his occupancy of the Chair of Mathematics in Transylvania University for three years subsequent to its reorganization in 1842, having brought his qualifications as a Teacher and Governor of youth into public observation. For the satisfaction of others, he refers to the testimenials subjouned, and to the Ministers of the Kentucky Annual Conference, as well as the Preachers of the Methodist Church generally in the West and South.
